THE TOBACCO MARKET AS REPORTED BY THE NEW YORK TOBACCO LEAF,

FEBRUARY 2.

Manufactured.— The market is exceedingly dull and without other feature." This was the succinct description given by one leading house in referring to the condition of trade in Cavendish circles, and a sin lar account was received at other representative houses. Reviewing affairs as a whole, we should say that trade for the week has been very light, and that we hear of very few sales either for export or home trade. Improvement, however, is noticeable in one respect. There has been more inquiry for tobacco, as if buyers were beginning to appreciate both their necessities and their opportunities, and as if slight concessions, if they were possible, would have effected some good sales. The reports from the South are better, and orders from that section are coming in every day for both low and high-priced goods. A picasiag item of news which buyers from the south report is that the illicit wagon trade is divinishing—a result due probably to the strendous efforts recently put forth for its suppression by the licensed manufacturers. Once this unlawful traffic is ended there will be a better demand for tax-pald goods every where, here and at the responsible and reputable factories.

An observer pronounces the last month the dulleston record in this brauch of trade. Eut everything is relative.

est on record in this branch of trade. But every-thing is relative.

Smoking.—There is a slightly increased inquiry reported in this department of business. Orders have come in with a little more freedom from the interior, and jobbers and grocers have called for small fines to keep up a ssortments for current demand. When the spring trade opens there should be a fair show of activity in this staple, inasmuch as prices may be expected to stiffen when the deficit in the supply of leaf begins to be more seriously felt. This remark, however, applies to all the manufactures of tobacco, and not to smoking tobacco is xelinavely. and drawn by Regers & McCance, was lost or misbeen stopped. The public are c antioned against trading for or cashing said check.

WANTS.

W

issues—namely, limited stocks and general apathy in business circles. A Richmond letter, dated the 26th uhlmo, says the market in that city is strong. The best leaf on side is offered loose. I paid today for good dark red wrapper feaf 17½c. I regard the goods of all kinds that I have bought cheap at the prices paid. It is my intention to put up tobacco at present prices for future use. There will be but few heavy, rich, dark wrappers in this crop." For other sorts there has been more inquiry during the past toan in the preceding week. The saies of western leaf for the month, as may be seen above, have been larger after all than seemed probable at an earlier date, so that it cannot really be called a dull, or rather a very dull, month.
